

The Solaris Project is a fictional AI research project.

It was created in Pune in 2026.

Its main goal is to study renewable energy forecasting.